Dear Dr. Wittenborn:

It was great fun in Istanbul, and I do think Turan did a most admirable job in organizing such a fine meeting. I am writing about two different thoughts, and ask your advice.

1. In Prague, I met Dr. Peter Fell, a research director of Organon (Netherlands). Dr. Fell is a most knowledgeable psychopharmacologist and I believe can contribute to our ACNP sessions in December. I would like to invite his attendance and ask that you send him such forms and notices as he may need. His address is:

Dr. Peter J. Fell
Basic Human Research Department
N.V. Organon
Oss, Holland

2. You will recall that I have been posted as chairman of the ACNP Nominating Committee. In the business meeting of the CINP, I was impressed by the totally undemocratic and restrictive nature of their nominating procedures, and was stimulated to think of our own procedures. Our own method is much better, but perhaps it can be enhanced by an invitation to the membership to recommend nominees to the Nominating Committee. If it is not too late, would you accept a request for a mailing of the enclosed note to the members? I am aware that it may be too late for this year, and will not be discomfeted if unfeasible.

Thanks for your cooperation. My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Pink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
