Dr. William Zung
Assistant Professor of Psychiatry
Duke University Medical Center
Durham, North Carolina 27706

Dear Dr. Zung:

Both Professor Freedman and I were delighted when we reviewed your curriculum vitae. I would like very much to have you visit New York at our expense. Unfortunately, I am leaving for a three week trip this Saturday. I plan to return March 2.

There is a presentation from these laboratories at a local society on March 14 and Dr. Freedman suggested that this might be an appropriate day to visit as it will give you an opportunity to know something of our recent work. But this is only a suggestion. May I ask you to call my secretary at (212) 369-7900 Ext 245 and arrange a date which is also convenient for Dr. Freedman, alternately to March 14, during the first week in March, except March 7.

It has taken me a bit more than a year to get the clinical and laboratory facilities operational. But we now have patients on two wards at Metropolitan Hospital and from the clinic available for study. There are two fully equipped EEG laboratories and our computer installation of an IBM 1800. Most important to me, is the fact that Dr. Donald M. Shapiro was appointed director of the Biomedical Information Processing Division of the Medical College. He is co-director of the 1800 unit and his larger facility (360 MOD 30) is available for any larger data processing. This collaboration between a computer unit, the EEG laboratories and the clinic have been very exciting during the past few months.

I look forward to your visit and hope that we can have you join us soon.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
