Dear Dean Dempsey:

Through the cooperation and participation of the computing center of Washington University, a satellite computer unit has been established at the Missouri Institute of Psychiatry. I am pleased to be able to make this unit available to the faculty of the Medical School.

The installation consists, at the present time, of an IBM 1620 processor, 40 K memory. In-put and out-put are through card reader and typewriter.

Early in June we plan to establish a series of working seminars for the training of persons interested in the use of this instrument.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
