Dear Mrs. Winkels:

I am pleased to submit this letter on behalf of Miss Jeanne Galbraith. As you know, I have completed an extensive review of convulsive therapy. During the past two years, I have called upon the library for a great deal of assistance. Throughout this time, Miss Galbraith has been particularly helpful in satisfying the needs which developed, including searches for citations, verification of foreign citations, and searches for uncommon documents. In addition, she has been particularly helpful in assisting me in my teaching assignments.

I have always found her cooperative, prompt, helpful and reliable. I am pleased to recommend her promotion and continued service in the Health Sciences Library.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
