Dear Dieter:

I was delighted to receive your recent letter indicating that there would be an opportunity during the CINP meetings for discussions on the role of EEG in Psychopharmacology. It seems, therefore, unnecessary for us to continue with the original suggestion of holding a different session either prior to or after the CINP meetings. I am taking the liberty of indicating to Dr. Bradley that his cooperation would no longer be necessary. I would appreciate your writing to Dr. Borenstein in Paris, since he was the third of the organizers of this special session.

I look forward to seeing you again this summer. Our work here is going very well and I hope to have an opportunity to discuss with you and our many other friends the results of our present investigation.

My best regards to Professor and Mrs. Flugel.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Director
