Dear Al,

It would be a pleasure to have you visit St. Louis during your forthcoming trip to Fort Worth. You indicate in your letter that you would be coming through about the 13th or 14th of February. I would be pleased to see you on Sunday, February 13, but it would be more practicable to have you meet members of the staff on February 14.

We would be pleased to have you arrange for you to speak to the residents during your visit. If you will select a subject (I suggested some aspect of narcotic addiction to the Chairman of the Training Committee) we will arrange for such a meeting during the early afternoon of February 14.

The work here is going quite well and I hope to have a goodly number of reports completed by the end of April.

My next scheduled trip to New York is for the Psychopathological meeting, on Friday, February 18. I can arrange to stay over for that Monday, February 21, or arrive one to two days earlier if there is some work to be done.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
