Dear Dean,

It was a pleasure to talk about our common interests. I discussed the laboratory data form, its output and statistics with Don. He is still not ready to release the programs, since they require documentation. We also are dissatisfied with the format of our outputs, including the statistics and are continuing to work on them. As soon as they fulfill our present expectations, I would like to send you samples for your critique.

Your idea of providing a service to industry is an admirable one. Good luck!

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
