Dear John:

I knew that there was some occasion when I would get you to St. Louis. I am pleased that you are coming. I have made a reservation at the Cheshire Lodge on Clayton and Skinker Roads for the evening of April 18.

Some weeks ago I received a report from Leo regarding your experiences with trifluoperidol. Because our experiences were very different, I asked Mr. Shapiro, the director of our Computer Center to run the BPRS profiles on our subjects. We found that none of our patients had high scores on the paranoid schizophrenic scale and, I interpreted this observation as explaining, in part, the differences in Leo's observations and our own.

I would be very pleased if you would plan to take a late flight from St. Louis, and would plan to spend some time after the formal site visit with Mr. Shapiro and myself.

I look forward to seeing you.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Professor of Psychiatry
