Dear Dr. Barton:

I am writing with regard to the proceedings of the nosology conference. The draft which was mimeographed as program paper No. 31 was a penultimate copy and I submitted to Dr. Katz two copies of a later draft. For your records, I am enclosing two edited and revised copies of the draft for your consideration for this volume.

The comments recorded by the typist add little to the text since I elected to use the time available to me to summarize the salient features of my report. For this reason, I think publication of the report alone is satisfactory and these comments ought to be deleted.

Dr. Max Hamilton, in discussing this report, raised a number of salient issues. Unfortunately, my notes of his questions have been mislaid. If a draft of his discussion related to program paper No. 31 could be made available to me, I will edit this report to answer some of his questions or provide you with answers that could be included in the discussion if his discussion is published.

It was a pleasure to participate in this program and I believe this volume will do much to provide a focus for future research.

Incidentally, in answer to your request at the meeting, the following is an up-to-date description of my present

Dr. Barton
