Dear John,

I am delighted that you will be able to assist us in developing the program for a heroin delivery system. We would like to have you join us June 22-23 in New York, and we will plan the necessary steps in developing the project.

The trip to England is in the planning stage and we should be able to decide what and whether it is necessary during your visit here.

Next week, we have appointments with the BNDD, NIMH and FDA to clear the politics and medical essentials of the project.

In the meanwhile, any literature or data that you have with regard to experiences with heroin, heroin maintenance, heroin tolerance, and its pharmacology, should be collected and the citations brought with you when we meet.

If you will stay with us, we would be pleased.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
