Dear Ian,

I am planning to attend the narcotic antagonist meetings in Aberdeen on July 12-13, and for two separate reasons would like to visit your laboratories on either July 14 or 15. Is either date available for you? If not, I will be in London the week before, and should be in Edinburgh, en route Aberdeen on Saturday, July 10. Is this date feasible?

In addition to visiting your laboratories to discuss your many and varied drug studies, we have a special commission to look into the use of heroin in Great Britain, and it may be helpful to meet those of your colleagues (Dr. Lewis?) who have experience with this drug. As our mission is to survey the experience in your country prior to undertaking a heroin delivery scheme here, perhaps there are others in your city who may be of help. If so, I would be grateful for your recommendations.

Is it possible to visit July 14 or 15?

My thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
