Dear Sid:

In checking my letter of August 26th, Dr. Gershon reminds me of two errors in the letter.

At the end of Paragraph one, add the sentence: Human trials have been done in the United States and published by Holmberg and Gershon in three separate publications.

In Paragraph two, we had not completed our call to Lakeside when we decided not to carry the problem any further so that technically they had not refused us.

I have since been able to find a small company that will be able to help us and this problem is for us resolved. However, the problem is still a real one.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
