Dear Hy:

Thank you very much for your kind invitation to participate in the forthcoming Miami Beach meeting of the Psychiatric Research Society. I would be pleased to present a twenty minute review of the use of computer techniques in the analysis of the electroencephalogram. Your suggestion to have Dean Clyde speak on computers in general is an excellent one and I think we can provide a good review for our members.

The registration form and the registration fee are enclosed.

The analysis of your tapes is running quite well now. We have not yet overcome the backlog, but all the members of the computer staff are now working and I believe we should have a more optimal situation during the next few weeks.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
