Dear Doctor Suinn,

My associates and I are pleased you are considering our report for the book of readings titled "Innovative Therapies: Critical Contributions".

I am enclosing the signed release and two copies of the reprint you requested.

Since that report was written we have updated our experience, and I am enclosing two copies of the latest version of our report on these therapies. This version has been submitted for publication, but has not yet appeared. I am confident that we can obtain a release.

While I note that you do not consider royalties for our contribution, at the least I would expect an editor-signed copy of the final publication for each of the authors. I trust that this would be possible.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
