

February 1, 1965

Dr. Hamlin
Director of Research
Abbott Laboratories
14th Street & Sheridan Road
North Chicago, Illinois

Dear Dr. Hamlin:

At the suggestion of Dr. Jonathan Cole, I am writing to indicate that he has stimulated the interest of our laboratory in the clinical evaluation of the synthetic compound, synhexyl. He, and his associate Dr. Effron, discussed the suggested applications of this compound at a recent meeting of the Committee on Clinical Drug Evaluation.

In the event that this compound is made available for experimental study in patients, we would like to consider such an investigation.

Sincerely,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry

MF: jm