

October 14, 1963

E. A. Serafetinides, M. D.
Institute of Psychiatry
The Maudsley Hospital
Denmark Hill
London S. E. 5, England

Dear Dr. Serafetinides:

Thank you very much for your recent letter. I regret that we do not have an opening available at the present time that would be suitable to your talents. The institute already has a heavy investment in clinical neurophysiology.

I have taken the liberty, however, of discussing your interest in coming to this country with two other laboratories which may have an interest in your program.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.

MF:mlg