KRONOS 1994

State University of New York at Stony Brook
School of Medicine

DEDICATION

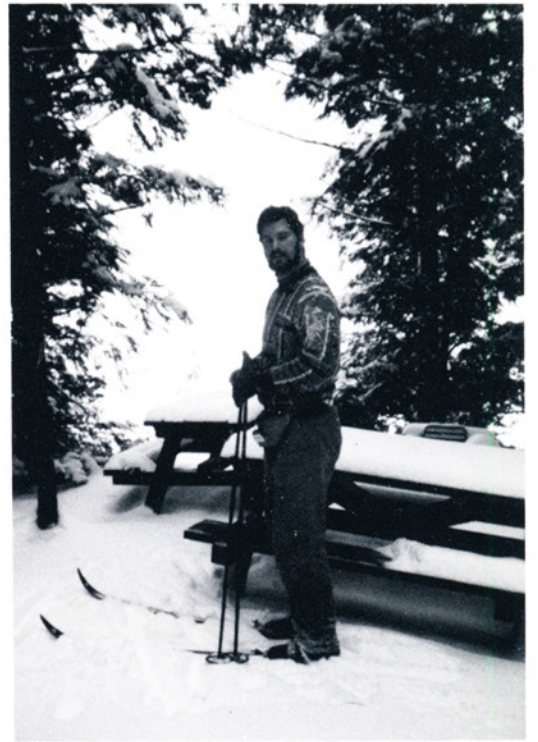

The process of becoming a physician has been filled with many trials and tribulations. The class of 1994 would like to dedicate this yearbook to our families and friends who have supported us during these difficult times. It will be with great pride that, when we remember medical school, we will recall the importance of your role. Thank you all for your love, compassion, and encouragement.

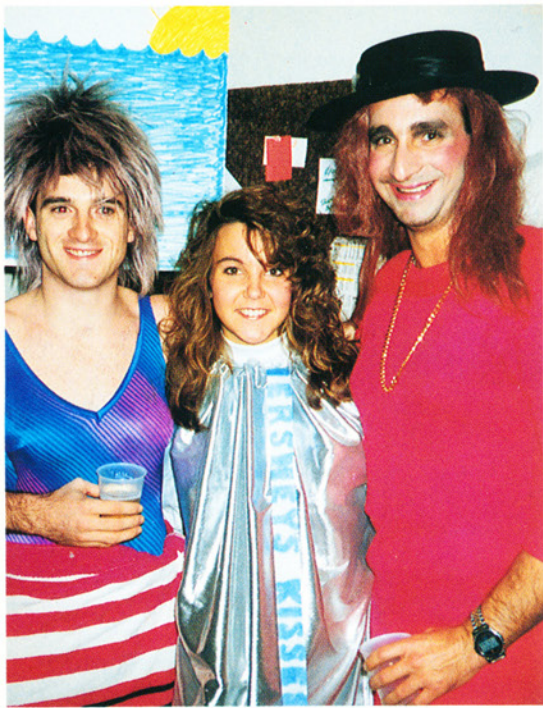

Will these guys be doctors?!

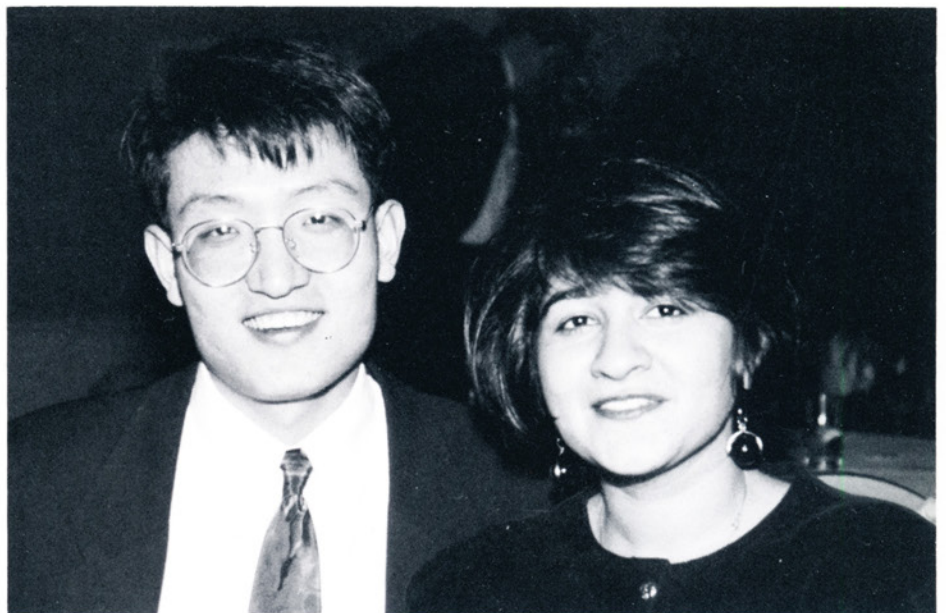

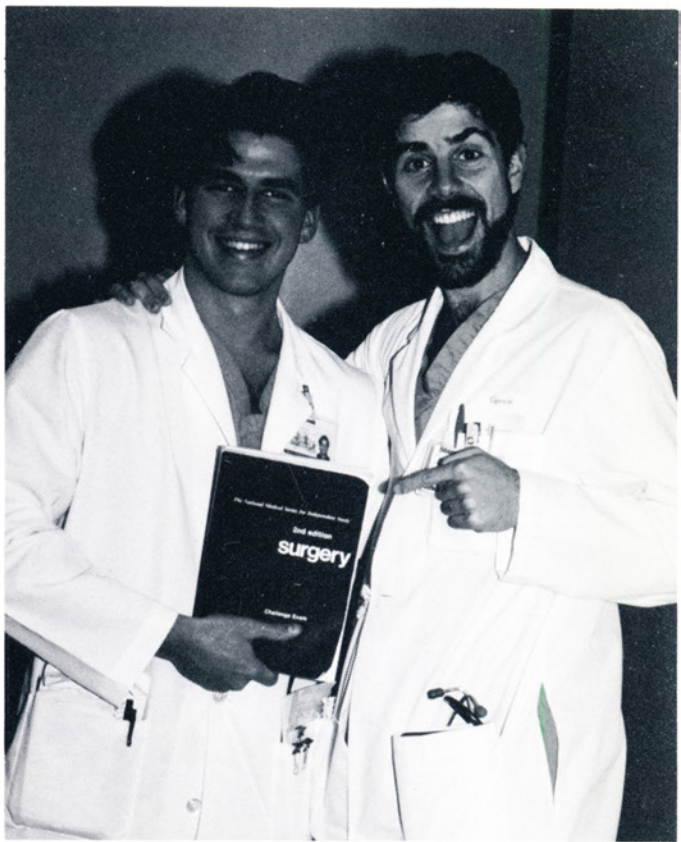

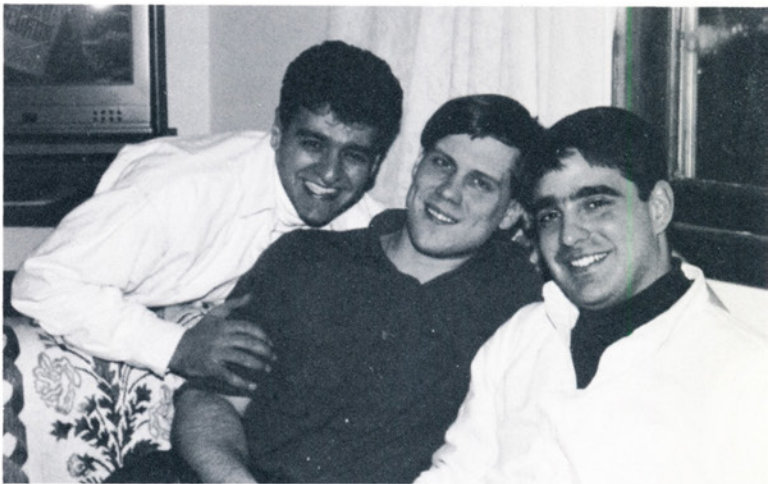

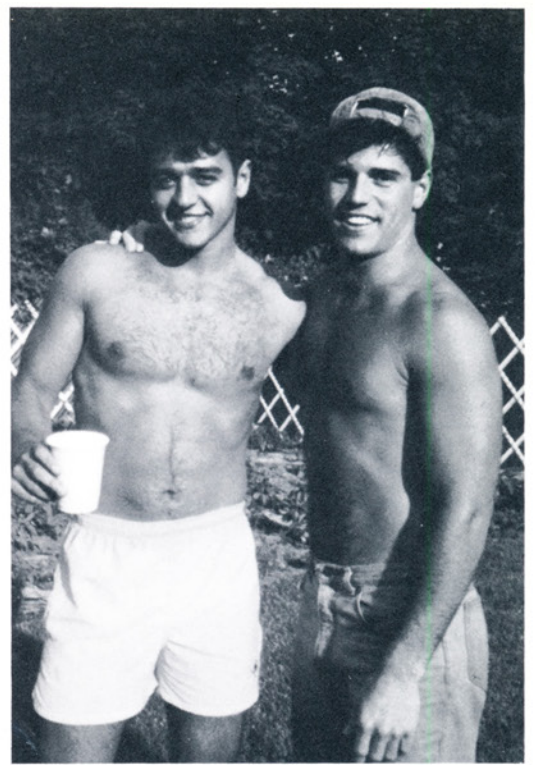

The Tale So Far

This is not the end. It's where
the story takes a twist,
like when your palms turned moist
on being sent to see the ill not just with eyes, but with your heart as well. It's where the tale takes an unexpected turn, a turn that you expect, but not exactly now. Slogging through the wilderness of words
you've searched for years,
suddenly you find the track
your quarry left, its traces tell you that you're near.

Doctors,
this is not the end. It's where
the hero comes, of course,
galloping high across the page
and where you find the hero's name
is much like yours.
It's where the champion charges in
on the steed of metaphor
to slay the dragon, save the day.

This is not the end. The hero doesn't fail.
This is the twist where you come in
to tell the tale.

YOU KNOW YOU'RE A MED STUDENT WHEN:

- You start writing letters home in abbreviations.
- You look deep into your lovers eyes and pull out a pen light.
- You start highlighting the T.V. Guide.
- Natural light makes you squint.
- You walk away from dishwashing with your hands in the air.
- You find yourself doing one-handed ties with your shoelaces.
- You wait for the bookstore cashier to grade your check.
- You sign your name in dots.
- While in a crowded elevator you start pondering the pathological agents associated with aerosol transmission.
- You get a blood test and they diagnose caffeinemia.
- Eating and sleeping become unnecessary luxuries.
- Pimples become supportive exudates.
- You start picking out which disease you'd rather die from.
- Someone asks you your name and you think it's a trick question.
- There's such a thing as a "real neat" lesion.
- Gross lab makes you hungry.
- You study at stop lights.
- You go from wanting A's to worrying about getting C's, to praying that you'll pass, to wondering if the Marines still need a few good men/women!!!

STUDENTS

The Anatomy Lesson of Dr. Tulp (1632) Rembrandt

To the Class of 1994:

I extend to you my most sincere congratulations for what you have accomplished so far and my best wishes for what you hope to accomplish as tomorrow's physicians. Medicine, today, is a changing world which can be both unsettling and exciting. Although change brings anxiety and frustration, it also offers hope and unique opportunities. I urge you to seize tomorrow's opportunities and through dedication and commitment to leave your mark on the changes ahead.

As you leave Stony Brook, I thought I will share with you my wish list for all of you.

First, I wish you the pride and resolve to aim high, a little higher than you think you could, and to strive to realize your full potential. I hope that you will find out how far you can really go and when you do, that you will want to go a little further.

Second, I wish you the courage and motivation to tackle new tasks, no matter how enormous they seem and despite the fact that you are going to be challenged repeatedly.

Third, I wish you the humility and patience necessary to do the millions of obscure, tedious steps that will, every time, separate you from the finish line.

Fourth, and most important, I wish you the will and determination to continue to honestly seek new truths and better ways to help and heal others. You owe them and yourself to uphold throughout your career, an unrelenting quest for knowledge and a firm commitment to professionalism and compassion.

So sail ahead with high spirits and remember your institution with pride and gratitude for you are well prepared to face what lies ahead.

I look forward to hear great news about each one of you.

Sincerely yours,

Naji N. Abumrad, M.D.

Congratulations

You have satisfied preliminary requirements for receipt of your M.D. degree.

Your diploma will be mailed to you upon final certification by the office of Academic Affairs of completion of your degree requirements.

OATH

I do solemnly swear by that which I hold most sacred, that:

I will be loyal to the profession of medicine and it's humanitarian principles.

I will use my power to help the sick to the best of my ability and judgement;

I will abstain from harming or wronging any person by it.

I will not be so intrigued by the science of medicine that I will lose sight of patients as people.

I will attend to the suffering of my patients with compassion and will use my knowledge to minimize that suffering.

Whatever I see or hear professionally or privately which ought not be divulged I will keep secret.

I will hand on precepts, lectures and all other learning to students of medicine and to those who will succeed me.

I will strive for the improvement of my science and my art, knowing that medicine may be imperfect but that its progress is constant.

I make these promises solemnly, freely and upon my honor.

Yearbook 1994
4 Hendel Circle
Deer Park, New York 11729

April 15, 1994

Dear Drug Company Representative:

I am writing to you on behalf of The State University of New York at Stony Brook School of Medicine's graduating class of 1994. The Yearbook Committee has reserved space, in the school's yearbook, for advertisements. The yearbook is read by hundreds of young doctors, faculty and hospital staff. Therefore, it is an excellent advertising media.

The cost is as follows:

1/8 of a page (business card)
1/4 of a page
1/2
Full page

Proceeds

The cost is as follows:

1/8 of a page (business card)	$75.00
1/4 of a page	150.00
1/2	275.00
Full page	450.00

The proceeds are essential to subsidize the costs of the use this opportunity to contribute. If you have any questions, please call me at (516) 586-3766.

Thank you.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jared C. Robins

More Very Important Information

To the Graduating Class of 1994:

Hey!! What's up? How's interviewing? The process is not as horrifying as I thought it would be. However, just in case, I've decided to sleep with all the chairman.

Anyways, I'm writing in regards to the yearbook. The groundwork for this brilliant piece of memorabilia has begun. The committee will need everyone's cooperation (right!) Each graduate will design his/her own "Senior Page." (Which will actually be a half page). Here are the guidelines:

1. Any number of pictures can be included. Keep in mind that these will be reduced to fit the page. We suggest 1-3 pictures. Pornography can not be included in the yearbook (although the committee would not mind seeing some.)
2. Quotes, favorite sayings, words of wisdom, death threats, etc. can be included. Be creative and keep it clean.
3. Submit the pictures with a description of how you would like them displayed to Jared (address below) NO LATER than JANUARY 31, 1994.

Check out the old yearbook for creative ideas. Anyone who would like to help with the yearbook, or if anyone has any questions, call me at 586-3756.

Thanks for your help and good luck with the match.

DOCTOR

Helping society is a job that you take
It requires an intelligent mind for the choices you make
The achievements you do will come one by one
All the efforts you make will get the job done
The loving and caring is always in mind
For a simple decision you make one more time
There are rough times of sadness shown in this field
There are good times of gladness to those that you healed
The small things you do are a step to a cure
Whether they are by experiments or more
To be a doctor the main things you need
Are quality, nobility and of course a degree!

"It is not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust, and sweat, and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again because there is no effort without error and short comings; but actually strives to do the deed, who knows the great devotion; who spends himself in a worthy cause, who at the best knows in the end the high achievement of triumph and who at worst, if he fails while daring greatly, knows his place shall never be with those timid and cold souls who know neither victory nor defeat."—Theodore Roosevelt
