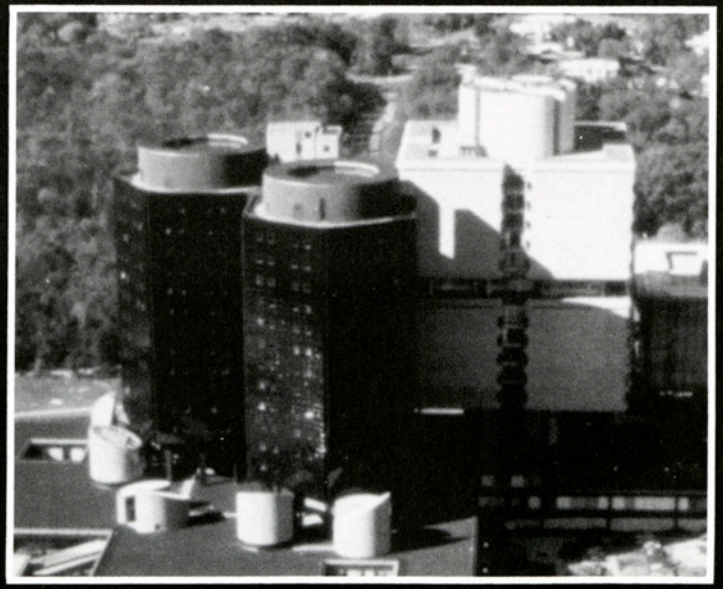
A lot of folks have wondered how, or even why, the Stony Brook School of Medicine yearbook, Kronos, got its name. Most of those asked thought that it was cleverly named after Chronos, the Greek God of Time and father of Zeus. The actual explanation baffles the mind. Apparently some of the witty members of the class of 1980 thought the Health Sciences Center bore a remarkable resemblance to an evil robot in a low budget 1950's sci-fi flick. The anti-social automaton's name? You guessed it—Kronos. Here's the cover of that first yearbook, a tongue-in-cheek replica of a typical horror movie poster.

Here's a bit more folklore for you. Look at the picture below, and squint a little. Now, if you are doing this correctly, the hospital towers of our beloved University Medical Center form a "U". Now squint harder, because this one is a doozie . . . Look closely at the Health Sciences Center . . . Do you see it? Yes, it is an "H." You've passed the most difficult part. Put those two letters together to form the anagram of the University Hospital ("U.H."). Legend has it that it was designed this way to aid the helicopter pilots in finding the right hospital. Ten years later, the administration painted a big red cross on the ground so they would finally land on the correct side of the building!



CLASS of 1997

Norman H. Edelman, M.D.

Dean, School of Medicine

To the Class of 1997:

This academic year 1996-1997 was a special one for the School of Medicine at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. It marked the 25th Anniversary of the School of Medicine. The School has clearly come of age and has become a vibrant institution.

Each of you reflects in your own special way, your experience here at Stony Brook. I am certain that if you compare notes, like the film Rashoman, no two versions of what you have witnessed, learned, and gleaned from your interactions here will be the same. However, in reviewing your four years, these remembrances should richly evidence learning, wisdom, and compassion. While your recollections are uniquely personal, these values provide the common threads that will weave the fabric of your future in medicine.

The School of Medicine has the mission of providing a solid medical education and of serving the community and society through discovery and health care. Today, more than at other times in recent memory, doctors feel the need to move beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries, communicate with colleagues in other fields, and discover a comprehensive pattern to patient care. This is the essence of our multidisciplinary education thrust to which you have been exposed.

As the practice of medicine continues to change and be influenced by outside forces, I hope your experiences at Stony Brook will have provided you the fortitude, ethics, and strength to always remain a professional, to develop a personal relationship with your patients and remember to place your patients' needs above those of society or your own. The degree to which you value professionalism will mark your place in your chosen profession.

May sincerest best wishes upon achieving graduation. May the path you have chosen bring you great satisfaction and your patients comfort, understanding, and benefit of your caring.

Best of Luck,

Norman H. Edelman

Pierce Gardner, M.D.

Associate Dean for Academic Affairs

Dear Class of 1997:

It is with enormous pride and satisfaction that I celebrate with you your successful completion of medical school and your wonderful results in the MATCH. It has been my pleasure to work with you during these formative four years and to help you in "The Internship Quest".

Your class has shared times of sorrow as well as triumph and you have shown strength and equanimity in dealing with tragedy.

At age 25, our School of Medicine has moved beyond its adolescence to young adulthood. Of the approximately 1700 graduates, the majority are still in various states of training for early practice years. For many training programs, you are the Stony Brook trailblazers and will set the standard by which future Stony Brook graduates will be judged. I am confident that you will do well and will pave the way for those who follow. I wish you every success in all the days to come.

Sincerely yours,

Pierce Gardner

Frederick Miller, M.D.

Professor & Chairman, Pathology

To the Class of 97-The Triumphant Class

Dear Doctors:

'Triumphant' is defined as achieving a great victory or success, or is very happy and proud because of such an achievement. You certainly satisfy those meanings. Match Day was sufficient evidence but no class has had to overcome the type of misfortune that befell you, the most untimely demise of Patrick Brooks. I could have called you 'The Tragic Class' but in a tragedy there is no bright side and the curtain closes having exposed the worst in the human construct. As shocking as that event was it is to your credit that you rose above it, gained character and went on. Your performances on Natioanl Boards and your achievements in securing post-graduate positions, rivalling any class to date, testify to your capabilities. This class need not be sent off with 'Good Luck', you will make your own and I will look forward to watching your development. You are the thirty-fifth class of medical students (here and elsewhere) that I have taught and former students are now professors in their own right. I expect you will go on to match the best of them. How you took such a notorious under achiever like Sarah Cottrell and helped her to succeed is really miraculous. Some of you I knew early on: Johanna, Alexandra, John (not all for the same reasons) and others like Ingrid I have come to know better because of interests (nephrology) that developed later on. It is interesting how you remember people: Elizabeth and Linda because of lipstick, Steve because of time he spent on the Curriculum Committee, Diana because she visited the ninth floor so often, and so on. Many of you I do not know well . . . but well enough to recognize your determination and ability. I could hardly forget Rob and his work on so many class projects (especially since he just called about this letter). Tabitha (gazelle in Arabic, interesting biblical references) not only for her name, Rickey who I remember for little said-much accomplished, and others whose early comments from faculty I just reviewed: Chris, Evan, Greg . . . I could go on but your achievements are not only academic but personal . . . relationships built and obstacles overcome. I will remember you very well, all of you, Class of 97. Go forth and fulfill the prophesy. May your accomplishments to date not be the capstones of learning but rather first markers on a highway of achievement, attainment and gratification.

Fondly,

George C. Newman, M.D., Ph.D.

Department of Neurology

"Where are you coming from,
and where are you going?"

Plato's Euthyphro begins with this pair of questions, seemingly so simple but in reality so complex. Well, this is the time for you to reflect on the same. Where are you coming from? Where are you going?

What have you known so far? "Work, work and more work!" What is in store for you? "Work, work and more work!" That doesn't sound like much of a change. "But surely there will be a change?" you may ask. Oh, there will be! More than you can imagine.

You are coming from your families and from your home towns, from your early friends who helped shape your outlooks on life. You are coming from growth in college and more growth and mutual support in medical school.

You are going to take care of patients and that's saying a lot. You are now responsible for their care. Sure, you are still training and learning in your residencies. But you know what? You will be learning for the rest of your careers. That is not something unusual. And these are the challenges you must conquer to reach your full potential as a physician. First, keep your patients as your top priority! Always keep your patients foremost as you practice! Never let the chaos of modern health care intrude on your relationship, in any form. You are responsible for their care, it is your task to bring them back to health, or, at least, to minimize and then help them cope with the consequences of their diseases. And secondly, to do this in such a way that your skills and knowledge continue to increase as long as you practice. The easiest way to accomplish this is to follow the old advice that you should learn something from every patient. Sometimes science, sometimes skills, sometimes humankind. If you are open to them, they will teach you.

Jack Stern, Ph.D.

Professor & Chairman, Anatomy

There's no disputing the fact that your class was a memorable one. After all, how many classes have a member with more gray hair than I? How many have Giants fans as dedicated as I? How many contain a Dean's daughter, who saved my job by the mere fact that she passed. Sadly, we must also recall the tragic death of one of your classmates, but I hope your prevailing memories will be of great effort, great accomplishment, and great parties. In particular, think fondly of that cold December night of celebration when it became necessary to launch a midnight search for an unnamed faculty member. How it must have shaken your faith in the wisdom of the elderly to find him dozing (if that's the word) in the bushes beside the house.

When writing these letters of farewell, I like to retrieve old student opinion forms so I may be reminded what a particular class has said about those of us who helped them learn gross anatomy. On the positive side was a class member's comment that "I enjoyed it thoroughly, inasmuch as one can, studying it every waking moment." However, my favorite opinion was "Dave Eliot and Pierre Lemelin were great. Larson has a gift for storytelling that well serves her educational objectives. Jungers made us laugh too much. Stern always hacked our body." I point out that "anatomy" derives from the Greek ana- and tomos. The latter refers to cut or slice. The prefix ana- means "up", or "back again", or "exceedingly". Have you any doubt which meaning I prefer?

We had fun together, and I believe whatever the fraction of gross anatomy knowledge you retain, it will serve to make you better diagnosticians and practitioners. I have kept touch with the progress of many of you throughout your entire tenure here. I know with certainty that will bring credit to our medical school. Not only do I congratulate you on job well done, but I thank you for striving toward excellence.

Jack T. Stern

Debra Gillers

Associate Dean for Admissions

Spring, 1997
Dear Class of 1997

I am delighted to send you my warmest wishes for your future. It is ironic that you and I will be "graduating" at the same time. I thought I would never leave Stony Brook . . . I still can't believe it. (In quite another sense, you probably thought this day would never come as well.) Congratulations!

I remember your class that first day of orientation, and then, in the early years: You were afraid the faculty didn't like you. (This was mostly because of the reputation of the class that preceded you for not attending classes.) You were spirited, more cohesive, and all in all, less of a problem. I did not get to know your class well, though I got to share more of life with some of you than others: Alexandra and Rodd (to me, they will always remain in the class entering '93), Carlos, Dan, Flavio, Joe, Rob, Sarah, Rob, Dan, and John. I was touched by your stories, and happy to have you share mine. While you were here, I got married and became a grandmother of four. Some of you married, had babies, and lost loved ones. Your class had much more than its share of tragic life events. I think this made you more patient with one another, and more awed by the power you will have in others' lives.

Among the many memories that I have of Stony Brook, is the first Pot Luck Party that was held in the School of Medicine in 1978. It was the idea of Nancy Dessert, a student from Bemidji, Minnesota, ('80 graduating class, now a Psychiatrist). Nancy thought we needed more time to establish a community with one another, and she and her class organized that first event. We had a great time: Dr. Kuschner, then Dean of the School of Medicine, sang every song he could remember from every school he attended starting with PS 99, going on to Seth Low Junior High, James Madison High School, City College, and NYU Medical School. (It was a long night—Ask him, he'll sing them for you.) Phil Kane, (a terrific dancer), did the Lindy. And people's kids and dogs (the hospital was not operating yet) ran all over the third floor and had a grand time on the escalators, which, in those days never shut down. Several weeks ago, at this year's Pot Luck Party, I sat with some of the same faculty that attended that first event: Fred Miller, Jack Stern, Peter Williams—and I was reminded, as I often am, how very fortunate I am to have been here among people thoroughly devoted to students and this institution, and with students who inspire us to teach, and who teach us to listen.

Now you will leave for all parts of the country, and I will go off to Cornell. We will be a powerful group out there, and we should not lose "touch" with one another, nor with Stony Brook, and those students who will follow in the years to come. I wish you all the very best for your future. And I hope that when you reflect upon your life at Stony Brook, you will do so with warmth and fondness.

Peace and struggle,

Debra

IN MY LIFE

There Are Places I Remember All My Life,
Though Some Have Changed,
Some Forever, Not For Better,
Some Have Gone And Some Remain.

All These Places Had Their Moments
With Lovers And Friends I Still Can Recall.
Some Are Dead And Some Are Living.
In My Life I've Loved Them All.

But Of All These Friends And Lovers,
There Is No One Compares With You,
And These Mem'ries Lose Their Meaning
When I Think Of Love As Something New.

Though I Know I'll Never Lose Affection
For People And Things That Went Before,
I Know I'll Often Stop And Think About Them,
In My Life I'll Love You More.

The Class of 1997 Scrap Book

STONY BROOK
Health Sciences Center

School of Medicine
Office of the Dean

August 4, 1993

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1997:

It is our great pleasure to welcome you to medical school and to the Stony Brook community. The Class of 1997 is rich in talent and diversity. We look forward to working with you as you undertake the demanding process of becoming a physician.

Medical education involves a faculty-student covenant of support and mutual participation. The curriculum at Stony Brook is placing increasing emphasis on active learning in which the individual student bears greater responsibility for reaching educational objectives. We believe that this endeavor will reap rewards both in transmission of information and in the development of lifelong learning patterns.

We hope that you and your significant other can attend the Dean's welcoming barbecue on the evening of Monday, August 23rd, at the home of the Cohens, where you will meet members of the faculty and other students. Dress is very casual. Directions will be given to you at the orientation on Monday, August 23rd.

Welcome and good luck!

Sincerely,

Jordan J. Cohen, M.D.
Dean, School of Medicine

Pierce Gardner, M.D.

Cardio/Pulmonary/Renal System 1994/95
Final Examination
Tuesday, January 17, 1995

1. On a dare Hugo First, a 3rd year med student, competes in his first marathon (26.2 miles). Despite your admonition, he completes this event without drinking any water, but collapses at the finish line. Recognizing this as a unique opportunity to study renal physiology, you obtain blood for testing. All of the following are likely except:

   a. Vasopressin levels are increased.
   b. Renin levels are increased.
   c. Atrial natriuretic peptide levels are increased.
   d. Aldosterone levels are increased.
   e. Epinephrine levels are increased.

2. Hugo's plasma Na+ after the race was 168 mEq/L. Assuming his pre-race weight was 70 kg, and Na+ was 140 mEq/L, his water deficit is closest to:

   a. 2L
   b. 4L
   c. 7L
   d. 10L
   e. 12L

$168(x) = 42(140)$
$x = 35$
deficit = 7

Your Hands-On Training Will Be Diverse & Challenging

Diversity Builds Practical Experience

Because this is the only residency program at the hospital, the educational contributions of the various medical departments are ground to Family medicine. Southside's inpatient Family Practice Service is independent of Internal Medicine and Pediatrics. Residents' patients from the Family Practice Center who are hospitalized at Southside are the responsibility of the Family Medicine Service.

As a resident in our program, we guarantee you will have more autonomy and responsibility and receive more intense hands-on training than with any other traditional residency program. Our physical location and the population we serve is extremely unique. Your training will be intense and comprehensive, and the scope and range of diagnostic challenges will fully prepare you for the real world. You will be exposed to

International Code of Medical Ethics

Duties of doctors in general

- To maintain the highest standards of professional conduct
- To practise uninfluenced by motives of profit
- To use caution in divulging discoveries or new techniques of treatment
- To certify or testify only those matters with which the doctor has personal experience
- To ensure that any act or advice that could weaken physical or mental resistance of an individual must be used only in the interest of that individual.

The following are unethical practices

- Any self-advertisement except as expressly authorized in a national code of ethics
- Collaboration in any form of medical service in which the doctor does not have professional independence
- Receipt of any money in connection with services rendered to a patient other than a proper professional fee, even if the patient is aware of it.

Duties of doctors to the sick

- Always remember the obligation of preserving life
- The patient is owed complete loyalty, and all the resources of medical science. Whenever a treatment or examination is beyond the capacity of the doctor, the advice of another doctor should be sought
- A doctor must always preserve absolute secrecy concerning all he knows about a patient, because of the confidence trusted in him
- Emergency care is a humanitarian duty which must be given, unless it is clear that there are others better able to give it.

Duties of doctors to each other

- A doctor must behave to his colleagues as he would have them behave toward him
- A doctor must not entice patients from his colleagues
- A doctor must observe the principles of the Declaration of Geneva.

This yearbook space is for you,
To join the void that is my heart
For regardless of what I do,
I am reminded that we did part.

Not a moment goes by,
When I do not long for your embrace
Instead I am left to try,
To remember the warmth and smile that was your face.

Your passing has changed me,
I am hardly the same man
But you would be so proud to see,
That I carry on as best I can.

It was you who inspired me,
To realize every goal
It was you who made me,
In body and in soul.

It was your very being,
That was mine to emulate
Oh, the pain that you were not seeing.
My day to graduate.

I am left to imagine,
Your joy and happiness and pride
Instead of joining the crowds and din,
You watch from your new home in the sky.

My dearest, sweetest mother,
Boundless is my love for you
I miss you like no other,
I often know not what to do.

At times I feel so weak,
At times I've lost my way
At times it even pains me to speak,
Of that awful, fateful day.

For you were my rudder,
Even though it was I who did steer
Not a day does pass without a shudder,
At the loss of a mother so dear.

But how proud would you be,
Of my chin upon the high
I shoulder the burden squarely,
Yet ALWAYS look to the sky.

Please watch me walk the straight and narrow,
Never let me stray,
Guide me wherever I go,
All of my fears please allay.

Help me to lose the pain,
And to ease the sorrow,
But I know the tears will always drain,
Until we meet again upon the morrow.

Four years : My daddy can do anything.
Seven years: My Dad knows a lot, a whole lot.
Eight years: My father doesn't quite know everything.
12 years: Oh well, naturally Father doesn't know everything.
14 years: Father? Hopelessly old fashioned.
21 years: Oh that man is out of date! What did you expect?
25 years: He knows a little bit about it but not much.
30 years: Must find out what Dad thinks about it.
35 years: A little patience. Let's get Dad's meaning first.
50 years: What would Dad have thought about it?
60 years: My Dad knew literally everything.
65 years: I wish I could talk it over with Dad once more.

With the support and sponsorship of many community businesses and many of the departments within the hospital, friends and classmates enjoyed a day of fun and golf. All proceeds raised by this event went to the Patrick Brooks Memorial Award and Scholarship Fund. In addition to all those who played and volunteered, Rick's family also spent the day with us. Let's hope this becomes an annual event to kick off graduation week and to raise funds for a great cause.

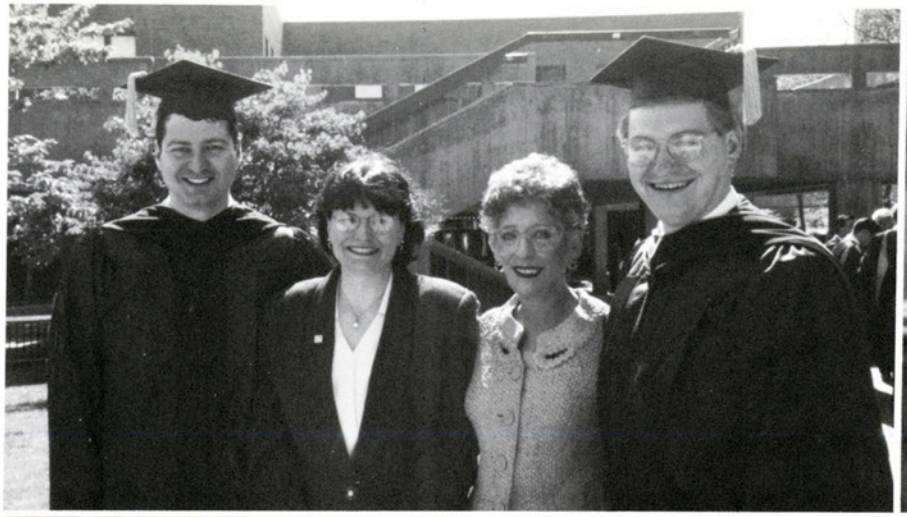
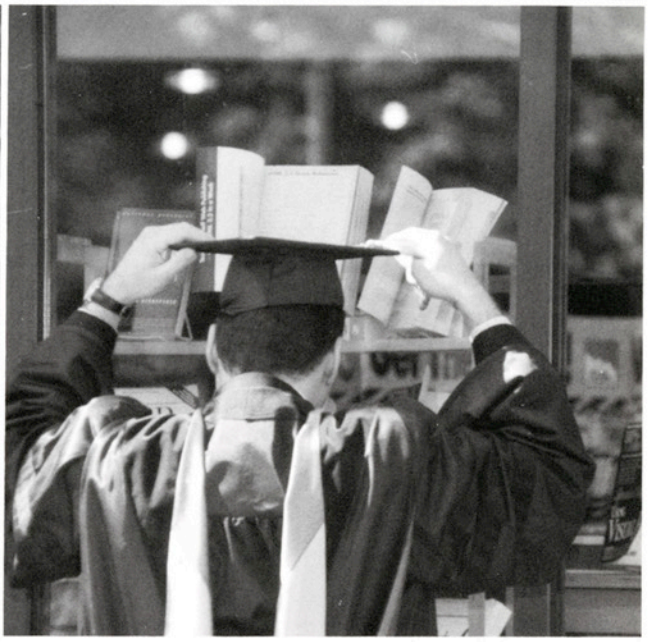
Reception Immediately Following
Staller Center Plaza





May 8, 1997

The sun beat down as we gathered on the lawn outside the Staller Center, each of us coming up with his own inventive way of positioning those perplexing MD hoods. Four years ago, the day seemed too distant to think about as we chomped on hamburgers in Dean Cohen's backyard. Yet, there we were, having survived Anatomy, Cells, countless hours of retracting during endless cases, and two rounds of board exams, ready to receive the official title of "Doctor".

We watched as each member of our class walked triumphantly, nervously, or just quickly across the auditorium stage, and before we knew it, four hours had passed. Then outside for photographs and final, or not so final good-byes. That day we began to move on our respective, divergent paths. Maybe those paths will cross again.

THE WAY WE WERE

These four years have been full of changes. Regardless of how big or how small, we are all in a much different position than we were at the beginning of medical school. Along with our changes as individuals, we saw some new changes in our school as well.

	Before	After
1.	Our dean, Jordan Cohen	Our dean, Norman Edelman
2.	A library replete with orange carpet and aviary	A new cooler color carpet with a question on the birds
3.	100+ students spending the majority of their four years in a small town on eastern Long Island	100+ physicians residing (definitely not sleeping) all over the United States
4.	A salad bar with only one stipulation - it had to fit on the tray	$ 3.95 per leaf
5.	A class with very few precious little ones	Several new addittions to our family!!!
6.	A rare engaged or married student	We exploded
7.	Parking for $16.00 per month with a white card	Parking for over 20 bucks with a yellow card
8.	Little to no debt	Our class average was over $ 70, 000
9.	A mail room where one had to wait on line to get in	A spacious mail area
10.	The majority knew what type of physician they thought they would be	The majority became physicians, but not the type they set out to be
11.	A class of bright, motivated future physicians	A class of physicians who are bright and motivated with excellent experience behind them and full, rewarding careers ahead of them

Good Luck Everyone!!

Oath

I do solemnly swear by that which I hold most sacred that:

I will be loyal to the profession of medicine and it's humanitarian principles.

I will use my power to help the sick to the best of my ability and judgement;

I will abstain from harming or wronging any person by it.

I will not be so intrigued by the science of medicine that I will lose sight of patients as people.

I will attend to the suffering of my patients with compassion and will use my knowledge to minimize that suffering.

Whatever I see or hear professionally or privately which ought not be divulged I will keep secret.

I will hand on precepts, lectures and all other learning to students of medicine and those who will succeed me.

I will strive for the improvement of my science and my art, knowing that medicine may be imperfect but that its progress is constant.

I make these promises solemnly, freely and upon my honor.

Four years ago, my only wish was to face the challenges of medical school & graduate as the same person I was upon entering. These years have been bittersweet. They have been filled with many moments of pure happiness and many of heartfelt sorrow. Like a family, we have shared these events together & have seen each other through. I have had the privilege of seeing the good in each of you & have been inspired by these experiences. I am proud to have been amongst you & I feel that I am a better person today for it. I know that each of you will inspire others as you have inspired me. I hope that you are all blessed with lives full of health & happiness and I hope that our paths will cross again.

Best Wishes,
Carlos Rivera

Post graduation celebration with Joe, Sunny & Mike.

We arrived wary of our reception as transfer students. One of the main attractions of Stony Brook as a place to continue our medical education was the friendly atmosphere we encountered during our interviews - the next glimpse we had of this friendly atmosphere was at the lottery, (podagra, refreshments and lucky rotation spot included!). The past two years (My God! Has it really been that long?) not only enriched our minds, but our lives as well - bringing us closer to each other and to our friends in our Class of 1997.

- Anita Trikha

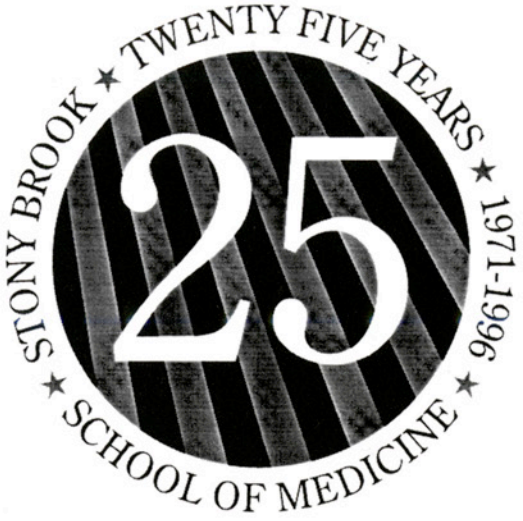
Richard Friedman

It is with great sadness that the Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Science announces the sudden death of Professor Richard Friedman on August 19, 1997, at the age of 49. Dr. Friedman died of heart failure after giving a speech at the American Psychological Association in Chicago.

A pioneer in the development of the Biopsychosocial model of human health and behavior, Dr. Friedman was a well known researcher in the effects of psychologic stress on cardiovascular disease. Dr. Friedman had more than 100 published articles to his credit, which delineated the interrelationships between health and behavior in both animals and humans. He was well known to us as the Co-Director of the Introduction of Human Behavior Course and for his service on the school APT Committee.

At a Harvard Medical School conference in 1996, Dr. Friedman was pressed by reporters on whether mainstream medicine, having started to acknowledge the importance of attitudes and beliefs in the treatment of physical illness, would integrate those considerations into day-to-day practice. Dr. Friedman replied, "Of course," then he quoted an old saw from medical school: "As a doctor you don't want to be either the first or the last to try something new." He then added: "But it is now catching on fast. Let me make a prediction. Ten years from now, in many managed care settings, doctors will not only be asking for a medical history when you come in, but will routinely ask about your belief system as well."



OFFICE OF THE DEAN

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 1997

CELEBRATING 25 YEARS OF EDUCATION

May the path you have chosen bring you great satisfaction and your patients comfort, understanding and benefit of your caring.

To Mommy, Daddy, Simon, Billy, Leon, Ya-Ya, Lasko & all my wonderful friends & family - Thank you for all your encouragement, patience & for putting up with me. I never would be where I am today if it wasn't for all of your support & love.

Love,
Kay

"It's not the critic who counts...It's not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled... Credit belongs to the man who really was in the arena, his face marred by dust, sweat and blood, who strives valiantly, who errs to come short and short again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming. It is the man who actually strives to do the deeds, who knows the great enthusiasm and knows the great devotion, who spends himself on a worthy cause, who, at best, knows in the end the triumph of great achievement. And who, at worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and cruel souls who know neither victory nor defeat."

-Teddy Roosevelt

10 most insightful student comments on MCS

10. The course is too short.
9. Too much discussion. Please give us more and longer lectures.
8. The quizzes were valuable. They encouraged us to reflect on and synthesize the course material.
7. The course is, to be blunt, too practical. We need more theory.
6. More peer reviews and evaluations.
5. No stupid paper assignments. We already know how to write good.
4. Dont allow section leaders to tell us clinical anectdotes.
3. We dont need MCS. We know all that societal and ethics stuff already.
2. Replace all in-class discussion with MCSNET, e-mail communication.
1. The MCS Faculty wishes us well in our careers!

There's no doubt that Shakespeare still has something to say, even after 400 years. Nowhere is this more evident than in his speech to a graduating medical school class.....

"Once more unto the breach, dear friends, once more [Obstetrics]
Or close the wall up with our English dead. [Autopsy]
In peace, there's nothing so becomes a man
[Adolescent pediatrics]
As modest stillness and humility:
[Stress management]
But when the blast of war blows in our ears
[Otolaryngology]
Then imitate the action of the tiger; [Psychiatry]
Stiffen the sinews, [Rheumatology]
Summon up the blood, [Trauma surgery]
Disguise fair nature as hard-favour'd rage;
[Emergency psychiatry]
Then lend the eye a terrible aspect; [Ophthalmology]

Let it pry through the portage of the head. [Neurology]
Now set the teeth and stretch the nostrils wide
[Plastic surgery]
Hold hard the breath [Radiology]
and bend up every spirit to its full height [Endocrinology]
And you good yeomen [Residency training]
Whose limbs were made in England [Orthopedics]
Let us swear that you are worth your breeding; [Gynecology]
Follow your spirit, and upon this charge
[Practice billing]

Cry 'God for Harry, England, and Saint George!' "

In memory of Dr. Anne-Marie Filkin Gunduz . . .

Life began for Anne-Marie Filkin as bombs were falling on London during World War II. Her father's British Army Unit had left for war-duty in Singapore. Due to the bombing, her mother had to go to a safe area in South Wales where the baby was born. Shortly after her birth, her mother returned to work at a London bank, to support the war effort. Anne-Marie was cared for by her aunt and family, with her mother visiting often during those days when the war was going badly for Great Britain. During her childhood, Pearl Harbor was bombed and the British Army suffered thousands of casualties in the "sacking of Singapore". Her father was captured and became a POW until the war ended in 1945.

After the end of the war, life began as a family for Anne-Marie. She and her parents were reunited at their home in the Village of Hastings. Education became her goal in life. She was taught by nuns at the Sacred School, went on to secretarial school, worked for the United Arab Republic Mission, as well as the Laos Embassy.

She joined the British Red Cross in 1962 and, from then on, her life was devoted to medicine. When she came to America, she entered Pace University and received degrees in nursing and biology. She studied medicine at the New York Medical College and did her residency in surgery at Montefiore-Albert Einstein College of Medicine. She became chief resident at Lincoln-Misericordia Hospital where she met and married Dr. Yilmaz Gunduz.

She went on to practice as a primary care physician from 1985-1991 at St. Partick's Home in the Bronx. She also took on the role of Medical Director of the Mary Manning Walsh Home in New York City from 1987-1991, and finally she became the first medical director at the Long Island State Veteran's Home in 1991. She was a specialist in ethics, residents' rights, and family systems. She studied, and spoke, French, Spanish, Italian, and Turkish. She and her husband lived in Head of the Harbor.

She was best known to the Class of 1997 as an instructor in our Medicine in Contemporary Society Class and in out Introduction to Clinical Medicine Program. She was a strong and caring woman who will be sorely missed by all who knew her. This photograph shows her a she was most commonly remembered . . . caring for another person. My Dear Chuck.

Your patient's are so lucky to have such a compassionate physician to care for them. Youive persevered through so many personal challenges and tragic losses, yet have remained so generous with your love and kindness.

Remember that when the road get's rocky again. Ill be standing there, beside you. Im so very proud of you!

Ill love you forever plus 10 days.
Kathryn

Dear Daddy,

I'm glad you'll make the boo-boo's go away.
I love you!

Love,
Samantha Nicole

Extends to you congratulations on your commencement...a granting of your degree and a beginning. The start of a career of caring in which the rewards know few bounds. You will be returned in satisfaction the considerations you extend to your patients. Treat them as you would treat your own. Never stop learning; knowledge will mitigate the unpleasantness of illness.

May each of you find the best path, walk it carefully and savor each step. Best wishes...
